Disclaimer

Due to the dynamic nature of workers compensation claims, the interpretation of data contained within this report (the data) must be undertaken with some caution. Data users are cautioned to carefully consider the provisional nature of the data before using it for decisions that concern personal or public safety or the conduct of business that involves substantial monetary or operational consequences.

The accuracy or reliability of the data is not guaranteed or warranted in any way. WorkCover WA has made a reasonable effort to ensure that the data is up-to-date, accurate, complete, and comprehensive at the time of disclosure. This data reflects data reported to this agency by insurers and self-insurers for the reporting periods indicated. Data users are responsible for ensuring by independent verification its accuracy, currency, or completeness.

Neither WorkCover WA, or its agencies or representatives, are responsible for data that is misinterpreted or altered in any way. Derived conclusions and analysis generated from this data are not to be considered attributable to WorkCover WA.

This data is provided as is and in no event shall WorkCover WA, its agencies or representatives be liable for any damages, including, without limitation, damages resulting from lost data or lost profits or revenue, the costs of recovering such data, the costs of substitute data, claims by third parties or for other similar costs, or any special, incidental, punitive or consequential damages, arising out of the use of the data.

Industry Benchmark Report

WorkCover WA is the government agency responsible for overseeing the workers compensation and injury management scheme in Western Australia.

WA operates a privately underwritten workers compensation scheme, where private insurance agencies are approved by WorkCover WA to provide workers compensation insurance to WA employers. Additionally, WorkCover WA also exempts large employers, who have the material and financial resources to cover their own liabilities from any workplace injuries that may occur, from having to obtain workers compensation insurance from an approved insurer. Exempt employers are commonly referred to as self-insurers. During the period referenced in this report, there were six approved insurers and 23 self-insurers operating within the WA workers compensation scheme.

Data from the Insurance Commission of Western Australia (ICWA) is also included in this report. ICWA manages workers compensation arrangements for WA government agencies. Although not an approved insurer within the WA workers compensation scheme, ICWA is considered to be more appropriately grouped with approved insurers rather than self-insurers.

This annual report is based on lost-time claims from the WA workers compensation scheme lodged between 2022/23 to 2024/25 (excludes asbestos, journey and disallowed claims). It provides a three-year average of industry benchmarks that can be used for evaluation of the occupational safety and health performance of organisations.

Industry classification is based on the Australian and New Zealand Standard Industrial Classification (ANZSIC) 2006, published by the Australian Bureau of Statistics. The ANZSIC system groups together businesses that carry out similar economic activities and is structured into a hierarchy of units reflecting different levels of description (available at abs.gov.au).

This report includes:

- claim numbers by days lost group
- incidence rate
- frequency rate
- average days lost
- average claim cost

Note: The previous 2024 Industry Benchmark Report misreported average days lost for industry divisions, using actual average days lost instead of derived average days lost. This error was isolated to 'days lost average' for industry divisions only. All other data items remain unaffected.

GLOSSARY

Claim costs

An estimate of costs for unfinalised claims, and the total cost of finalised claims attributed to the date in which a claim was lodged with an insurer.

Days lost

The number of days or shifts where the claimant is absent for work resulting from a work-related injury/disease. It is attributed to the date in which a claim was lodged with an insurer (insurer received date).

Frequency rate

The number of lost-time claims lodged per million hours worked. The total number of hours worked who are covered by workers compensation based on the number of hours worked by employed persons in Western Australia, as supplied by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS). For this report, the denominator of hours worked is based on 2021/22 to 2023/24, as there is a 12-month lag for the data releases from the ABS.

Incidence rate

The number of lost time claims per hundred employees (includes part-time, full-time, casual, and seasonal). It is based on employed persons in Western Australia as supplied by the Australian Bureau of Statistics. For this report, the denominator of employee numbers is based on 2021/22 to 2023/24, as there is a 12-month lag for the data releases from the ABS.

Lost-time claims

Claims for which the injury or disease results in an absence from work of at least one day or shift.
